

SADDLE CREEK

BOULDER • COLORADO

It has been a storied location on the Boulder landscape since early settlers called the creekside solitude at the mouth of the canyon their home. Situated below the iconic flatirons, where granite spires tower overhead, spruce trees cascade down the hillsides, and the acoustic ambiance of Boulder Creek flows directly below.

Boulder Creek c. 1880 >

For half a century, it was the iconic location of the Silver Saddle Motel, a mid-century waypoint on the Western travel itinerary. Today, though, the property has been reimagined into one of Boulder's most exclusive new addresses a limited number of people will soon call home.

A limited collection of luxury homes will soon be available, with design inspired by the topography, and a modern, refreshing take on living the Boulder lifestyle.

Footsteps from the best of Boulder.
Yet, miles from the everyday.

Saddle Creek is a refreshing reimagination of life in the heart of downtown Boulder, offering a limited collection of spacious, multi-level residences that feature gracious decks, expansive views, and fresh, contemporary design. Nestled into the hillside at the mouth of Boulder Canyon, mere steps from the Boulder Creek path to downtown, it is truly Boulder's most exceptional new residential address.

Car free.
Care free.

It is the very best of Boulder life, completely on your terms.

At Saddle Creek, you are only steps from the Boulder Creek path with roadless access to the Pearl Street Mall to meet friends for a dinner out or to catch a live music show. Saturday morning spent wandering the farmer's market is an easy bike ride away on the electric bikes that are included with each residence. The University of Colorado is close by, where the vibrant campus provides everything from nationally recognized sporting events to the annual Shakespeare Festival. The cultural experiences that await are as endless as the views down the canyon.

Adventurous Escapes

Tucked into the mouth of the Canyon, Saddle Creek puts you moments away from the breathtaking immersion of the foothills, with easy access to hiking, skiing, fly fishing and all the adventure for which Boulder is famous.

The Flatirons and Boulder County Open Space serve as your backyard, with countless trails available for a morning run or an afterwork hike.

The cherished wilderness area of Indian Peaks is an easy drive up the canyon, for climbing, hiking, fishing and other alpine pursuits, while nearby Eldora Ski Area serves as your easy-to-access snowsports resort.

●

Your mountain retreat, right in the heart of Boulder.

The luxury residences were designed by multiple, award-winning local architecture teams, bringing design variety and a character anchored in true sense of place. Each residence gracefully flows from floor to floor with generous use of windows, spacious outdoor spaces and thoughtful owner amenities designed for comfortable, low-maintenance living.

The interiors bring together a fresh take on alpine living and mountain character, with optional design finish packages featuring natural substrates and understated, contemporary color palettes born of the landscape that surrounds these special residences.

Design inspired by the surroundings. Location inspired by mother nature.
